If you need another way to refer to a noun
Well I can help, I'm a PRONOUN
He or she or it or we or them or us or her or him
I guess that I'm a substitute, that's my thing

I describe all the things we know as nouns
I'm an ADJECTIVE and they need me around
Green frog, big dog, tricky situation
I describe everything in WORD NATION

I'm a VERB and I describe what's being done
Sit, sleep, sing, walk, dance, jump, run
I change my form to suit the situation
And I'm in every sentence in WORD NATION

I'm an ADVERB and I modify
I give the how, when, where and why
Of adjectives, verbs and adverbs
*He sang sweetly, we flew *upward

If you've got things to join together
A CONJUNCTION is what you need, I tell you
*Jack and Jill, salt and pepper*
If you need a bridge, you won't find better

A PREPOSITION, that's what I'm called
Take a noun or pronoun and some other word
I'll show you how they relate together
*Cart before horse, birds of a feather*

Hey! Ho! Wow! Boo!
If you want emotion that's what I do
I'm short and loud, I'm an EXCLAMATION
I put the spice in WORD NATION
